

Skills Package co-design workshops

The Australian Government's $525 million Skills Package, Delivering Skills for Today and Tomorrow committed funds to establish a National Skills Commission, Skills Organisations and National Careers Institute.

Together these initiatives will help modernise and strengthen our skills system by driving research and analysis of national skills needs, raising the profile of VET as a career pathway of choice and giving industry greater ownership of the skills and training system.

I invite you, or a representative from your organisation, to help co-design the National Careers Institute. Places are limited so please register for our sessions using the links below:

The workshops will focus on the National Careers Institute, established in July 2019, to provide leadership in the delivery of high quality, evidence-based career development to help Australians make informed decisions about their learning, training and work pathways. This workshop will examine how the Institute can most effectively achieve its purpose.
